THE PARADE OF NATIONS

IICMS CELEBRATES UNITED NATIONS DAY 2025

A Global Procession

The morning kicked off at 8:00 AM with a vibrant Parade of Nations.

Transforming the streets of VML Subdivision and stretching toward the highway, the procession was a kaleidoscope of culture. Students donned traditional costumes from around the world, with each grade level proudly representing a specific continent, turning the neighborhood into a moving map of global heritage.

Voices for the Unreached

Beyond the colorful attire, the heart of the program lay in the students' presentations. Each learner took to the stage to share a concise profile of their chosen country. Most notably, students highlighted the "Unreached"—sharing statistics on those who have yet to hear the message of God. These speeches served as a powerful reminder of the school's mission to look beyond borders with compassion.

IICMS CELEBRATES UNITED NATIONS DAY 2025

Unity in Performance

Following the individual speeches, the atmosphere shifted to one of creative celebration. Each class delivered a group presentation, showcasing teamwork and cultural appreciation through music and movement. These performances underscored the beauty of diversity within the body of Christ.

Guest Message: A Journey with God

The school was honored to welcome Mr. Nathan Shuck, a dedicated missionary, as the keynote speaker. Mr. Shuck delivered an insightful and in-depth message tailored for young hearts. He spoke on the lifelong journey of getting to know God, encouraging students to view their own lives as a mission trip guided by faith.

A Joyful Conclusion

The celebration concluded in an atmosphere of joy and warmth. The program ended with a collective prayer for all generations, asking for wisdom for the youth and peace for the nations they represented. It was a day that moved beyond simple flags and costumes, leaving a lasting impact on the hearts of the IICMS community.
